

Knowledge, skills, ethics.

Knowledge

gives rise to responsibility.

"Investments can be lost, but not one in knowledge."

The Hon. Jane E. Markey

Michigan Court of Appeals Judge,
Cooley Law School Graduate

Civilization and the law are intimately connected. A democratic society has always reserved a special place for those educated in the law. Whether one goes from law school into solo or law firm practice, into corporate or nonprofit institutional practice, or into government, the Cooley Law School emphasis on sound academic knowledge and skills prepares its graduates for leadership.

Because a good legal education is, above all, preparation for good citizenship.
