RICHARD WHITE

Richard White is a founding partner and was a board member of a nationally known law firm, Lewis, White & Clay, currently known as Lewis & Munday, P.C. He served as the president and chief operating officer of the firm from 1981-1994. In addition to managing the law firm, White headed up the corporate and business department. His legal specialties include health care, insurance, corporate (including finance, governance, mergers and acquisitions, etc.), employment, and transportation. He also has some experience with franchising, auto retail and supplier areas, and SEC reporting. He resigned from the firm in 1995 to join AAA Michigan as vice president, secretary and general counsel. In 1997, White was appointed senior vice president, secretary & general counsel. White is also a founding member of 100 Black Men of Greater Detroit, Inc., a mentoring and scholarship organization. He received his Bachelor of Arts, with honors, from Morehouse College and his law degree from Harvard Law School.
